"literally rapturous"

Jen Chapin Open Wide Stephan Crump

"Chapin is a first-rate storyteller...
Open Wide is enormously potent."
- Christopher Loudon, JazzTimes

"...straddles the jazz/folk line and works remarkably well as either/or.
An amazing debut by an artist to watch."
- Seth Rogovoy, Berkshire Eagle

"...a beatnik folk-jazz that sounds
a bit like a minimal Ricky Lee Jones.
[Chapin] possesses a fine voice."
- The Village Voice

"[a] somewhat daring collage of Jazz and Folk sensibilities...a beautiful artistic endeavor."
- Chris Van Loan, Musicdish

"...compels with its careful blend of intimacy and rhythmic force..Highly original, highly recommended."
- David Adler, All Music Guide

"a simple yet sophisticated interplay of voice and bass."
- Karen Auble, Cleveland Free Times

"This is finely honed, softly nurtured stuff, late-night conversations one feels privy to hear..."
- Bill Ellis, Memphis Commercial Appeal
